

MINUTES of MEETING of BUTE AND COWAL AREA

The Scottish Government has approved the business case for relocation of GP practice services into Cowal Community Hospital. In addition to achieving closer working with services located in the hospital, this will provide an opportunity to review the way in which medical services are provided within the hospital. Work is underway to finalise plans and it is expected that relocation will take place in 2022. The relocation plan involves Cowal Medical Practice and Church Street Practice. There is an expectation that the two Practices will merge into a single larger Practice and the Practices are working towards this.

1. Could the Area committee get an update on why the White Lines have not been updated in Dunoon? According to the Roads and Infrastructure services update Additional Appendix Dunoon is not on the update.

Response from Roads and Infrastructure Services (RIS)

The Committee Manger read out the below response on behalf of RIS:

The programme of lining works for Bute and Cowal is ongoing. If there is a specific location which you believe has been missed from the programme, please advise us of this.

2. Could the Area Committee get an update on the new Parking Officer and why there is some confusion regarding parking on double yellow lines which is causing havoc?

The Committee Manger read out the below response on behalf of RIS:

A new Amenity Warden has recently been recruited for the Bute and Cowal area. Parking on double yellow lines will be enforced where appropriate. More detail is required regarding the specific location which has been causing confusion to enable a full reply.

The Chair confirmed that details of the location had been passed back to RIS to enable the service to reply fully to Mr Matheson.
