Buses not frequent enough, last buses from Glasgow too early in the evening
Far too infrequent
Frequency, bad timing poor roads convenience with sheltered stop. Suggest bus comes to Inveraray and then meets busses to Campbeltown and Oban. I did see one double decker out for a try. But with drivers having to stop after 3 hours of driving other methods of improving bus delivery need to be considered. How about a train down Campbeltown from Glasgow
Good regular services during summer periods understandably less service during winter months
Not enough of it last bus from Glasgow 6pm
Poor in winter
Too infrequent
Transport for main routes to Glasgow are good although could be a little more regular. it would be good to have more localised transport to allow people to get in and out of Inveraray and Lochgilphead more easily

How do you suggest we get listened to?
Not much at our age
OK but will the Council really address our concerns? (Councillor rotation not a good idea!)
There is a community council in both Inveraray and Furnace. Although I do feel Furnace are more proactive in listening to the community and its needs. I feel Inveraray have wanted a community centre for many years and nothing seems to be moving forward and I do think this would improve a lot of the issues in Inveraray
Too many excuses before a crisis occurs and it will
Whenever there exists decision making bodies who police themselves the ordinary persons to any decision making is completely superfluous.

What are the main issues and priorities for change that you have identified?

A more representative and active Community Council. A Bank would be nice. A shop which isn't a tourist shop or a café. Cafes open later at night. Nobody wants to be a leader. A place for the community for Inveraray to meet. Help with transport, GP services etc. for furnace to make it more appealing to a range of people to want to live there. More to do leisure and sporting wise.

What actions could be taken to deal with these?
